

THREE SISTERS EDUCARE AND WELFARE CENTRE
Helping the community to combat poverty

NEWSLETTER JUNE 2015

Lize de Kock is a South African-born writer and editor living and working in Munich, Germany.

Sadly, the security situation has been very volatile in the Three Sisters Philipp East area, following protest actions last month over a nearby informal settlement. As a result, we have to take extra care of some of our children who have been left homeless.

SOME EXCITING NEWS

We are pleased to introduce Lize De Kock as our first 'Guardian of Good Hope'. "Small children, often have to overcome enormous obstacles at a time when they are the most vulnerable," said Lize. "As adults it is our responsibility and our privilege to give them the best possible start, and contribute to a more stable future for all South Africans."

(Guardians of Good Hope are individuals who raise awareness of Three Sisters' achievements and challenges.)

Our fundraiser, Eduvator, released a great promotional video about Three Sisters on Youth Day. The video is available on social and other media outlets:
